

War Diaries.

The War Diaries that we have transcribed are held in the National Archives some we have obtained and others passed onto us from the History Group Members.

Home - The National Archives

The file reference number is at the top of the unit page. Many are quite hard to read therefore instead of adding the originals we have transcribed them. If anyone has copies of others, or anything they wish to share please contact us at. historybdeod@gmail.com

Some of these Diaries are only extracts of short periods of time others much longer.

War Diaries can be a fantastic source of in-depth information or be found to have scant details; however they do supply information no matter how small that allows us to continue to piece together our history.

This Section of our web site as all others will be updated as we find more information.
